Course Description	This is a basic problem-solving course suitable for students in any major. A survey of a wide variety of problem solving strategies.

	Students successfully completing this course will effectively communicate mathematically, utilize various strategies in analyzing problems, and increase problem-solving persistence and sharpen problem-solving skills.
Program Outcomes	Foundational Area of Knowledge: Mathematical Reasoning  Students will work to:  • analyze and model mathematical situations using a variety of techniques to solve problems effectively
	<ul> <li>communicate a clear understanding of conclusions</li> <li>apply mathematical systems of thinking</li> </ul>
Course Learning Outcomes/Objectives	Problem solving is a very important part of learning mathematics. Good problem solving skills don't necessarily come naturally but can be taught. Students need many opportunities to practice problem-solving strategies, and they need to learn how to choose an appropriate strategy to solve a given problem. This course is designed to give students a firm problem-solving foundation. It also teaches them to think and work together, present solutions orally to the whole class, and write up detailed solutions. In other words, it helps to prepare them for life, as well as for future mathematics courses. Hence, written and oral communication skills are an important emphasis of the course.
